FACULTY ROUNDTABLE:
“WHAT IS ASIAN AMERICAN FEMINISMS?”
3:30 - 5:00 PM | RING ROOM | CROSS-CULTURAL CENTER
Please join us for brief presentations and conversation with professors to explore the origins, parameters, and implications of naming Asian American feminisms.
Speakers: Monishal Das Gupta (U. of Hawaii), Grace Hong (UCLA), Karen Leong (Arizona State University), Maylei Blackwell (UCLA), Judy Wu (UCI)
Moderator: Tavleen Kaur

STUDENT ROUNDTABLE: “AN INVISIBLE MINORITY: ASIAN AMERICAN AND PACIFIC ISLANDER WOMEN AT THE 1977 NATIONAL WOMEN’S CONFERENCE”
5:00 - 6:30 PM | ORANGE COUNTY & SOUTHEAST ASIAN ARCHIVES CENTER
Forty years ago, Houston hosted the 1977 International Year of Women/National Women’s Conference. Inspired by the 1975 United Nations Conference in Mexico City, the NWC attracted 20,000 attendees, including 2,000 delegates from the fifty states and six territories, to create a national women’s agenda. Please join us to learn about the Asian American and Pacific Islander women who participated in this historic event.
Speakers: Sophaline Chuong, Pauline Nguyen, Maribel Comparan, Justine Trinh, and Malire Lozada

FILM SCREENING AND DISCUSSION: PATSY MINK: AHEAD OF THE MAJORITY (2008), A FILM BY KIMBERLEE BASSFORD
5:00 - 6:30 PM | MC CORMICK SCREENING ROOM, 1070 HUMANITIES GATEWAY
Patsy Takemoto Mink, a third generation Japanese American from Hawaii, was the first woman of color U.S. Congressional Representative. She co-sponsored Title IX and other important legislation to advocate for women’s rights, civil rights, environment protection, and peace. She even ran for the U.S. Presidency forty-five years ago in 1972. Please join us to learn more about Patsy Mink, an Asian American woman who was “ahead of the majority.”
Please check out the trailer (http://www.aheadofthemajority.com/)