Simple Future Tense and Future Perfect Tense Exercises

A. Write the simple future tense form of the verb (using “will” or “going to”).

1. In the first year, I ________________ new friends studying physics, philosophy, art, and music. (encounter)

2. The most exciting thing for me in the next four years probably ____________ meeting a lifelong friend who I can talk to when I am sad or joyful. (be)

3. I ________________ friends with people from different backgrounds, which can help me try to understand their cultures and appreciate their inner beauty. (make)

4. As a freshman, I’____ definitely ______ my best to get used to everything and learn as much as I can. (try)

5. I ________________ to the undecided office to find my advisor and talk about what I really want to study. (go)

6. If I can’t speak English fluently, my life ________________ very tough. I ________________ my best to participate in more clubs and activities to have more opportunities to talk. (be) (try)

7. My parents spent a lot of money sending me to the USA. I hope they ________________ positive feedback appear in my transcript and feel proud of me. (see)

8. It won’t be long before we ________________ upperclassmen, advising incoming freshmen on what they should and shouldn't do during freshman year! (be)

9. Next summer, ______ you ______ home to visit your family? (go)

B. Write the future perfect tense of the verb (using “will have + past participle”).

1. I _____ _____ ________________ my second writing assignment by Friday at noon. (submit)

2. By the end of summer, I _____ _____ ________________ how to create a good thesis, break my writing into paragraphs and organize them logically, and proofread for grammar. (learn)

3. I hope that I also _____ _____ ________________ some amazing friends to share my first year at UCI. (find)