

Ac Eng 29: Introduction to Graduate Research Writing

OPEN TO STUDENTS
FROM ALL LANGUAGE BACKGROUNDS!

This course introduces key components and skills for successful graduate-level academic writing. Topics cover: summarizing and synthesizing sources, understanding appropriate source use conventions, developing and organizing ideas for research writing, revising and editing, etc.

As the first of the graduate writing series, this course helps new graduate students develop a fundamental understanding of graduate writing necessary for more advanced tasks such as academic publishing and thesis/dissertation writing.

COURSE OFFERING FOR WINTER 2021:

Enroll today!

20160 Kim, H. Th 10:00-11:50

Dr. Ha Ram Kim is a Lecturer and Academic Coordinator in the Program in Academic English. She received her Ph.D. in Linguistics from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and is experienced in teaching graduate-level writing courses for students in various disciplines. She has published in major journals in the field of applied linguistics, focusing on second language acquisition and assessment.