- "What's for Lunch?" (or "Breakfast" or "Snack") Department Hosted Lunch/Snack for Completion Goal Celebration

Supply every team member an anonymous raffle ticket, puzzle piece or token. Place 2-3 small jars of buckets in a common area each marked with a different lunch/breakfast/snack choice (think pizza, bagels, popsicles, etc.) instruct staff to vote for the lunch of their choice with their "ticket" after they have completed their survey. (Honor system rules apply for voting) Once the team reaches 80%, the winning option is then served to the team by the leaders.

VISUAL % COMPLETION TRACKING IDEAS

- "Horse" themed chart to represent the GALLUP survey tool
- Price is Right "Cliffhanger" themed mountain chart
- Use an image that is reflective of UCI or your department as a "thermometer"
- Mark a jar/container with % levels and fill with candy to track completion. Promote that the jar can't be opened until its 80% full – then everyone can share eating the candy
- Partner with another Engagement Ambassador from a department you work with on a regular basis to "Compete" and post both your and their departments completion %'s within your department
- Send ongoing (daily/weekly) email updates to your team letting them know your team's survey completion %
