UCI School of Humanities Career Development & Experiential Learning

Dear Humanities students,

The UCI School of Humanities would like to encourage you to apply to participate in the 2023 Richard Macksey National Undergraduate Humanities Research Symposium hosted by Johns Hopkins University (please click this link for more details: <https://krieger.jhu.edu/macksey-symposium/>).

The 2023 Macksey Symposium will be hosted in person on the Johns Hopkins Homewood Campus on March 24-25, 2023 for registered presenters and guests.

Student presenters will have the opportunity to submit their work for publication in a journal of conference proceedings.

The School of Humanities will sponsor up to five School of Humanities students to present their paper at the Symposium and reimburse them for registration, lodging, and airfare up to $1,300.

The Symposium has extended the deadline for UCI Humanities students to apply and submit their abstract to February 8.

Please feel free to contact Associate Dean Yong Chen (y3chen@uci.edu) and Director Brittney Pinney (brittney.pinney@uci.edu) if you have any further questions. Please also share your abstract/paper with us before your submission.

Yong Chen, Associate Dean, School of Humanities

Brittney Pinney, Director of Experiential Learning, School of Humanities
